Dear Parents/Carers

Re: Year 10 End of Year Exams

I am just writing to follow up with my previous email notifying you of the End of Year exams for Year 10 commencing on W/B 17th June 2024. There is certainly an apprehension and eagerness from many students within the year group around these exams and I have seen some great examples of revision and the pride students have displaying their work completed at home.

As mentioned in my communication last week, I have prepared booklet guide to all of these exams with the topics from each subject. Within this booklet is also some key revision tips and links to websites to support students with their exam preparation. The booklet is attached for your reference and also will be uploaded for all students on Satchel One. To navigate this booklet, please see some information and support regarding revision and, by clicking on each subject in the contents, this will take you to the subjects revision list.

At home, the best support you could be offering your child is to support them in devising a revision timetable (using the link on Satchel One to the whole year group task) and supporting in enabling time and space for them to revise.

As noted within the booklet, I will be in touch again shortly with the finalised timetable for exams.

Yours sincerely

Mr J Brockman
