A Hayes secondary school is celebrating after it was awarded world class status.

Hayes School in West Common Road has received the World Class School Quality Mark (WCSQM) after a rigorous assessment process.

The award recognises state secondary schools, which go beyond the highest Ofsted inspection grade Outstanding and demonstrates students are a class apart.

Eighteen state secondary schools in the UK have received the WCSQM this year.

Principal Kieran Osborne said: "We are delighted to have achieved this award which is well deserved recognition of our students' skills and commitment to their learning and personal development.

“Hayes students embrace the many opportunities we provide for them, achieve highly as a result of their effort and determination and lead themselves and others.
